Antioch Will Stand High in War Bond Drive

Believe Township Is Near 100% in Support of War Effort

Antioch township, always a leader in campaigns for civic betterment, is again expected to score high in the U. S. war bond pledge campaign when the northern Lake county chairmen and "minute men" meet tonight at the home of former congressman James Simpson, Jr., at Wadsworth to report on the success of the campaign. Simpson is chairman for the northern district of Lake county.

Otto S. Klass, chairman of the drive in Antioch township, today was highly enthusiastic over the results of the campaign which closes today. Chairman Klass believes that the township will be recorded as nearly 100 per cent in support of the nation's war effort. Klass also expressed his appreciation to the loyal "minute men" who under the leadership of the various zone chairmen have made a thorough canvass of residents in Antioch township. The few who refused to sign the pledge cards, Klass believes, either did not understand the purpose of the drive, or had already purchased all war bonds they could afford at this time. Many had made purchases far beyond the average.

Committeemen here attribute much of the success of the drive to the preparations made by both Mr. Simpson and James F. Stiles, Waukegan industrialist, who is general chairman for the county.

Stiles addressed the Antioch group here May 6, and his talk inspired the local workers with such enthusiasm that they expressed a desire to start the campaign immediately, although the drive was set to begin officially on Monday of this week. "Minute Men" serving as chairmen for the various zones of the township were Mrs. B. R. Burke, Mrs. Eleanor Micheli, Mrs. Lawrence Yopp, O. L. Raether, William Bennett, Mrs. John Doyle, Mrs. Henry Pape, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Selter, Mrs. Robert Runyard, Mrs. George Randall, Walter Hills, Mrs. Lester Heath, A. H. Piersdorff, Mrs. Nelson E. Sibley, Mrs. Ed F. Vos, Joe Rhymer and George White.

Crappies, They Grow Big in Channel Lake

Walter Scott, Chicago painter, of 4818 W. Monroe st., Chicago, didn't have to tell a whopper fish story Saturday—he had the evidence right in hand—the evidence of his angling prowess being a 17-inch, 2½ lb. crappie he caught in the north end of Channel lake.

Scott brought the fish to Antioch for exhibit and for photographing. He said he used a No. 7 hook with a "shiner" for bait. Needless to say Scott is "sold" on the Antioch lakes as the "happy fishing waters."

Scott's catch is the second largest crappie ever taken from the chain of lakes and is exceeded only by the fish caught in 1938 by Wally Valters of Chicago which also was 17 inches long but was 12 ounces heavier.

Local Telephone Toll Controversy Not Settled

Following conferences here last week between officials of the Illinois Bell Telephone company and members of a committee appointed by the Antioch Lions club to investigate the cause of the 10 cent toll charge between subscribers in Lake Villa and Antioch who are served by the Antioch exchange, it was reported by Daniel S. Boyer who heads the local committee, that the matter was not settled.

District Manager A. R. Andrews and General Suburban Superintendent Miller of Evanston, sitting in on the conference, stated the matter was under consideration by Bell company officials, that the matter was not tabled and that there was hope for a satisfactory solution of the local rate problem.

Plan Picnic for Kindergarten Tots and Parents Tuesday

Children of the kindergarten and their parents will enjoy a picnic at the grade school next Tuesday evening, according to plans announced this week by Miss Dorothy Kurzenkabe, kindergarten teacher. About 50 parents and children are expected to attend.

Start Drive on Village Vehicle License Tags

Antioch automobile and truck drivers are being requested by the village board to secure their village vehicle license tags within the next few days, and certainly during the month of May.

The tags, payment on which was due May 1, are available at the office of the village clerk, Roy L. Murrie.

A charge of $2.50 is made for automobiles or trucks that come under the Illinois state "A" and "B" classifications. Trucks that come under "C" or higher letter classifications have a vehicle tag charge of $4.00.

Co-operation on the part of auto owners now will spare the time of village officers if they are required to make collections later, village board members say.

List 2,841 Here For Sugar Quotas

Ration Books Are Issued to 2,594; Registration Population Gain

Figures released by Prin. Ralph E. Clabaugh, who was in charge of the four-day registration for sugar rationing books in the Antioch area last week, showed that 2,841 persons made application and that 2,594 of the books were issued.

Prin. Clabaugh was assisted by 18 volunteer registrars who were kept busy during all of the four days from 4 to 9 p. m.

A total of 122,423 registered in the county which is said to indicate a population gain of 1,329 over the 1940 census. Most of the gains were registered in the lake shore cities while some of the rural areas showed a loss.

One Stamp Every Two Weeks For the first eight-week period of sugar rationing each stamp is good for 1 pound of sugar, but each person is permitted to use one stamp in a two-week period making the sugar allotment only one-half pound of sugar per person per week.

Each sugar stamp is good only in the two-week period for which it is designated. The table showing the weeks in which each of the first four stamps is valid follows:

Stamp No. 1—May 5-16.
Stamp No. 2—May 17-30.
Stamp No. 3—May 31-June 13.
Stamp No. 4—June 14-27.

As soon as special applications are available at the local rationing boards, housewives will be permitted to apply for five pounds of sugar per person in her family unit to be used in canning of foods.

A visit from the stork will not mean that the rest of the family must go on short sugar rations. Local rationing boards will issue War Ration Book One for new arrivals, Henry Pope, Jr., rationing administrator, Illinois State Council of Defense, said in an (continued on page 5)

Combine Programs at High School as Conservation Measure

Ivy Day Program and Baccalaureate Service Set for May 24

An innovation in the schedule of commencement week exercises at the Antioch High school was announced this week as a conservation measure to save tires.

The Ivy Day program usually held on Monday morning preceding commencement this year will be held on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock and will be followed at 8:30 o'clock by the Baccalaureate service; thus one trip to the school will permit those interested to attend both services.

The traditional ivy planting ceremony will take place on the high school terrace, with the following honor students having a prominent part in the program: William White, class president; Howard Atwood, ivy bearer; Jennie Nevelier, alma mater; Martha Winch, prophecy; Joan Miller, sealer; Leo Buchta, spade bearer. The D. A. R. Girl Pilgrimage Certificate and pin will be presented, and the student council president for the coming year will receive the gavel from James Jones, this year's president. Music will be by the high school band and Edward Ruschowski will sing.

Following the ceremony on the campus the seniors and the audience will assemble in the auditorium for the Baccalaureate service. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Walter MacArthur of Lake Villa, and the juniors and seniors will present a patriotic sequence entitled, "What America Means to Me."

Legion Plans Program for Memorial Day

Service Will Pay Tribute to Soldier Dead of All Wars

Citizens of Antioch community who will gather here for the Memorial Day service on May 30, will, by their presence have a part in paying tribute to the soldier and sailor dead of the present world war as well as those who gave their lives in other conflicts in the nation's history.

The event which is arranged under the supervision of the Antioch Post of the American Legion will have added significance this year because of war conditions and the fact that many sons of local citizens are now serving in the great conflict, many of whom are in foreign lands in the service of their country.

Chairman of the committee on arrangements, Otto S. Klass, has announced that the Junior Drum and Bugle corps which has been rehearsing for several weeks will appear in a series of new drills. The corps has been under the direction of Mr. Klass and C. A. Wolfenbarger, athletic director at the Antioch High school, who is an expert on military drills and formations.

Charged with the important task of securing a speaker for the occasion is Post Adjutant John L. Horan, who states that he expects to invite a naval officer stationed at Great Lakes who has attained prominence both as an orator and as an authority on naval and military affairs generally.

Co-operating in the event will be the village administration headed by Mayor George B. Bartlett, various school groups, Legion firing squad, and the Legion Auxiliary.

60 COMPLETE FIRST AID AT RUSSELL; 25 AT CHANNEL LAKE

A class of 60 prominent citizens of Russell vicinity who recently completed their instruction course in Red Cross first aid under the tutelage of Captain Herman Holbek of the Antioch Rescue squad, successfully passed their examinations for certificates Tuesday night. Harry Greenlee, lay instructor and also a member of the local rescue squad was the examiner. Greenlee also gave final instruction in the standard Red Cross course to a class of 25 at Channel Lake last evening. Their knowledge of first aid will be tested some evening next week.

Since completing the advanced course for Red Cross lay instructors two years ago, three Antioch men, Captain Holbek, Lieutenant Herman Rosing and Greenlee have instructed over 300 persons in the standard first aid course. Some of the classes have been large ones, notably the class just finished at Russell with 60 members. Rosing taught a class of 37 at Fox Lake recently, and Holbek also has conducted large classes in the western part of the county. The men serve without pay.

Since last October Rosing has instructed 101 persons in first aid and at present has charge of a class of 15 junior air raid wardens. These, with the classes of Greenlee and Holbek, will bring the total receiving instruction during the year to well over 300.

In appreciation of the important service being rendered by the Antioch men many of the classes taught by them have made substantial donations to the local rescue squad's splendid equipment. The Russell class gave $40 for this purpose at the completion of their course Tuesday night.

Day's Outing in Chicago Rewards School Patrol Boys

All work and no play, according to the old saw, will wreck any boy, and that goes, too, for the Antioch Grade school's excellent traffic patrol squad who earned a day's outing in Chicago, according to Prin. Ralph Clabaugh and Virgil Newlin, 5th and 6th grade teacher who accompanied 14 of the boys on their trip to the city last Thursday.

The trip was to have included a trip to the Cubs baseball game at Wrigley Field, but rain prevented that, so the boys are reported to have had a delightful time in Lincoln park, including a trip to the famous zoo.

Those making the trip were: Russell Stowe, Tom Furlan, Mike Furlan, Rolfe Burnette, Walter Messager, Benny Drury, Robert Lutterman, Albert Kumpfer, Dick Hansen, Jim Fields, Ralph Trieger, Don Heath, Bob Risch and Howard Nevitt.

THE GLAD HAND

Village Board to Aid Residents in Clean-up Week

Plan to Make Antioch Spick and Span; Trucks Will Haul Rubbish

Next Tuesday, May 19, is set as the day for a grand house-cleaning in Antioch, according to announcement made yesterday by Mayor George B. Bartlett and members of the board. Antioch may not be a "spotless town" but it will be a cleaner town after next Tuesday if householders co-operate efficiently with the clean-up effort of the village board.

Officialdom's part in the clean-up program will be the hauling away and disposing of rubbish, and all property owners are asked to do is to collect such rubbish and place in suitable containers for easy handling and place it near the curb in front of their premises by 8:00 a. m. on next Tuesday morning. Village trucks will haul it away, free of charge, of course.

In ridding their premises of rubbish and undesirable articles, householders should have an eye on the salvaging of any materials that may be used in the country's defense effort, Mayor Bartlett pointed out. Among these would be old rags, paper, old magazines, iron, or any metallic articles which can be sold or given to junk dealers or to organizations engaged in the collection of such materials.

The annual clean up has been delayed due to the illness of two village employees—Marshal William Thiemann and Sheridan Burnette—however, both are now well on the way to recovery and it is hoped they will be back on their jobs by next week. If necessary, extra men will be hired for the clean-up work.

Complete Plans for Rescue Squad's Benefit Dance

Good music and refreshments are promised for the dance sponsored by the Antioch Rescue squad to be held in the Danish hall on Ida avenue the night of Thursday, May 21, according to members of the squad, all of whom are serving on the committee, and all active in promoting some feature of the event.

Proceeds will be used for the purchase of new equipment and for the maintenance of the equipment already in use.

Advance sale of tickets, committee members say, indicates a wide community interest in a worthy cause, and this, plus the good time that is assured to all who attend, is bound to make the event a success.

Fortin Starts New Home Bakery Here

Home baked bread, pies, cakes and coffee cakes will be featured products of Phil Fortin's home bakery which opened here this week in connection with the Pantry cafe.

Fortin believes there is a demand for such products in this community and upon his purchase of the cafe several weeks ago took steps toward equipping the place to supply the need by purchasing and installing a modern steel gas oven. A full line of his featured products will be on sale this week-end.

See Start of Coach Service Before May 30

American Coach Co. Informs News of Plans for Early Service

There is hope for motor coach service between the Lakes Region and Chicago and between the Antioch area and Waukegan before the end of the month, the Antioch News was informed today from the office of President A. R. Gerner of the American Coach company at 3917 N. Kedzie ave., Chicago.

Assurances that the franchise for the Antioch to Chicago run would be forthcoming from the Illinois State Commerce commission, and assurances also that the two coaches built recently for the company would be released by the priorities board, have prompted the coach company to proceed with the preparation of schedules and routings, however, there is "nothing in writing" officials say.

Meanwhile citizens, commuters and defense workers throughout the county have voiced demand for the transportation the early establishment of the coach service would afford. Today the News received a letter from Henry Paulson, president of Paulson & Co., of Chicago in which he explains his interest in the local transportation problem and suggests a method of arousing further interest among residents here.

Referring to an article printed in the News last week regarding coach service, Mr. Gerner writes:

"Personally, I take a great interest in this service, and have been trying to do everything I can to bring it to some conclusion. Last week I had Mr. Gerner, president of the American Coach Co., on the wire, and he said he hoped to do something, but nothing definite has been concluded as yet."

"To further this, I have sent out 112 cards like sample herewith, to all the residents of the Felter Subdivision on Lake Catherine. I am now waiting for the addresses of the residents of the Warriner Subdivision. In my conversation with Mr. Gerner, he said that something definite might be done, if he had some assurance of patronage. When I receive the names of the residents of the Warriner Subdivision, I will send them the same cards."

MARKSMANSHIP CLASS TO BE FORMED HERE

Local Group Pioneers Move to Organize Civil Defense Unit

Pioneering the move for the organization of a marksmanship club for the Antioch area a group of men and women Wednesday night will complete their instruction course in the use of firearms and will be ready to enlist members and effect a permanent organization here in the interest of civil defense. The classes have been receiving instructions at Deerfield for the past six weeks.

Arrangements for the use of the Antioch High school gymnasium as a temporary range have been completed by a committee headed by Homer White and Prin. E. W. Edwards of the high school.

Local marksmanship who are anxious to get started practicing to improve their ability, today were seeking sheet metal to be used as a backdrop for the range in the gym, which later may be moved to the school property east of the Soo tracks.

Acting as temporary officers pending the permanent organization of the club here are: Wm. E. Brook, pres., Homer White, vice president; Bob Mann, secretary; Mrs. R. E. Mann, treasurer; Lloyd Atwell, Lake Villa, rangemaster; Ben Van Duser, assistant range master; James Sterns, pictol range master.

The club will use .22 caliber army rifles, but members are requested to supply their own guns if possible. Ammunition will be supplied at cost. There are no membership dues.

The Antioch Rescue squad had been combing the lake bottom in the vicinity of the accident since Saturday, May 2, when the other victims were discovered near their overturned boat.

The body was taken to Chicago for burial.

Lions Take Raincheck on Golf Tourney; Set New Date for Monday

The Antioch Lions club members took a rain check on the annual golf tournament scheduled for last Monday and which was postponed for one week on account of rain and wet grounds. The play-off will be held Monday, May 18, and the delay has occasioned no lack of enthusiasm among members who have some scores to even on account last year's event when some mighty poor golf playing, or exceptionally good playing accounted for several top-sided scores.

The group will enjoy a steak dinner at the Chain O' Lakes club house following the tournament.

"The Kid Has Gone to the Colors"

Out of World War I—came a poem "The Kid Has Gone to the Colors," written by a person whose name is unremembered. It was a tribute to the brother of the author, a poignant expression not destined to be remembered among the immortal classics, but one that described a scene that was being repeated in thousands of American homes every day. "The Kid" could have been you, or me; "The Kid" was a soldier, sailor, marine, by the millions responding to the call of his country.

Today, less than a quarter of a century later, the kids are going to the Colors again, with their spirits high, their determination strong, and their clear eyes looking into a future that holds they know not what. December 7, 1941, takes its place in American history as a day that will be remembered as long as American men and women live.

In the homes of many members of Naval Post the "kid" has gone to the Colors; more will go as time rolls on; more "Service" stars of blue will appear—some of these blue stars may turn to gold—but we will be sustained by our transcending pride in our "kid" and our love of country.

My "kid" (of course not my own son who will only turn 15 this year—but a "kid" I love as much as my own) has gone to the Colors, into the service of the Navy, because he felt that his obligation to his country could best be paid in the Naval branch of the forces of the United States.

And as we read the news of the progress of this conflict, thrust upon us by the disciples of avarice and greed, we feel that the imperishable words of Abraham Lincoln, taken from his second inaugural address, still expresses the hopes and desires of you and me, Mr. and Mrs. Average American: "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves, and with all nations."

The American constitutional form of government, divinely conceived, must prevail; the American way of life must endure. The price will be great; the ultimate victory dearly bought in "Blood and Sweat and Tears." Americans all, "The Kid Has Gone to the Colors." God bless, God protect, the "kids" of America.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Increasing U. S. Air and Naval Power Demonstrated in Pacific Sea Battles; U. S. Wants Car Owners' 'Extra' Tires; OPA Decrees Gas Quota for East Coast

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

The strategic importance of Madagascar to the two main supply arteries of the United Nations armies in the east are indicated by the above map. By capturing the key naval base of Diego Suarez, British Commandos supported by marines, infantry, air forces and naval units, assured protection of these vital supply lines.

MADAGASCAR: 40-Hour Triumph

A 40-hour epic of British Commandos' gallantry came to a victorious conclusion when the Diego Suarez naval base on the northern tip of Vichy-held Madagascar surrendered.

While French army outposts still held military control over the Madagascar hinterlands, the fall of the huge naval base assured the United Nations possession of the vital gateway to their eastern supply routes. Moreover, it was vindication of a new spirit of aggression which made the Japs "miss the bus."

Military authorities in both America and Britain pointed out that the successful attack marked a refreshing contrast to the fiasco at the key port of Dakar, Africa, a year ago. It was revealed in London that the Commando attack on Madagascar, supported by marines, RAF forces and naval contingents, had been planned three months in advance.

PRESIDENT OF PERU: Closer Latin Ties

Closer knitting of relations between Latin America and the United States was seen in the visit of President Manuel Prado of Peru to this country.

When Senor Prado arrived by clipper plane, it marked the first official visit in history, of a South American president to the United States.

Significance of this precedent-breaking official mission to the future of Pan-American resistance to Nazism was seen in the fact that Peru was the first South American country to break off relations with the Axis under the accord reached last January at the Rio de Janeiro conference. President Prado's Anti-dictator policy before the war was an important step in the virtual exclusion of Axis propaganda from Peru.

Under a recent decree, Peruvian armed forces now function under the direction of U. S. army and navy officers.

RUBBER: U. S. Wants Tires

Robert P. Patterson, undersecretary of war, intimated that county fairs, football games and other public gatherings might have to be curtailed this year in the interest of rubber conservation, when he announced that the government planned to purchase extra tires from private car owners. By "extra" was meant more than five to a car, he said. Purchases will be on a voluntary basis.

At the same time the Office of Defense Transportation disclosed that it was drafting plans for "rationing" civilian travel by train, bus or airplane. Officials declared that "travel-as-usual" would be a thing of the past by the end of 1942. They expressed the belief that sharp curtailments of non-essential trips would be necessary before the end of the summer.

That requisitioning of civilian tires and cars would be undertaken if necessary was a view supported by a number of Washington officials.

In outlining his views on motor car use curtailment, Mr. Patterson said the prospects are that there will be sufficient rubber for the army, navy, war-workers and essential civilian supplies. He pointed out that there was a million tons of rubber "now rolling on the highways" and that it must be conserved.

Civilians who expect synthetic rubber plants to bring any relief this year are doomed to disappointment, it was declared. All such rubber is earmarked for the nation's armed forces.

PACIFIC SEA BATTLES: U. S. Shows Power

A crucial test of the United Nations' increasing strength in the Australian sector was given as Japanese sea and air might massed northeast of the key continent in a thrust, from New Britain, the Solomon Islands and the Loyalside Archipelago.

Within a five-day span American warships and planes had taken a toll of 16 Japanese ships either sunk or badly damaged. Engagements were the heaviest since the battle of the Java sea.

Concentration of the Japanese naval forces in the Australian area was regarded as a threat to the steadily expanding U. S. communication lines in the South Pacific. Blocking of this threat meant that not only would Australia's position be more secure, but that the "springboard" for an ultimate United Nations' offensive against the Japs to recapture the East Indies and the Philippines would be further prepared.

Japan's strategic power in this area lay in its possession of the Solomon Islands which form stepping stones along Australia's northeast flank starting from Rabaul on the island of New Britain and extending down to New Caledonia.

GAS RATIONING: East Coast First

Eventual gasoline rationing for the entire United States loomed as a future possibility when the Office of Price Administration limited the sale of motor fuel in the Atlantic Seaboard area to two to six gallons weekly to "non-essential motorists."

The initial rationing applied to 10,000,000 motorists in 17 eastern states and the District of Columbia. Officials stressed the fact that sufficient gasoline would be provided for essential driving but not enough for extensive "pleasure" driving or other non-essential purposes.

The OPA's order included three types of ration cards: "A" for non-essential motorists; "B" for essential users such as defense workers, public service officials and others; and "X" providing for unlimited usage. This latter category included doctors, nurses and kindred professional people whose duties require rapid and extensive travel.

In the scale of gasoline usage, the "A" range was based on an average mileage estimated at 4.5 miles daily. The "B" range covered from 4.5 to 13 miles daily and the "X" for mileage far in excess of these averages.

LIVESTOCK SHOW: War Casualty

Indicative of necessary war-time restrictions on the nation's transportation facilities, was the decision by its directors to cancel the International Livestock Exposition held annually in Chicago for the past 42 years.

The anticipated lack of transportation facilities to handle the livestock formerly shipped here from all sections of North America was cited as the principal reason for the cancellation.

Traditionally the mecca for rural Americans of all ages in the week following Thanksgiving, the exposition recorded an all-time high attendance of 400,000 last year.

TRADE BARRIERS: Ban Local Restrictions

Suspension of trade barriers between states which are adversely affecting war production was predicted following the close of a federal-state conference on war restrictions in Washington.

Particularly critical at present are state and local laws governing man power, construction and housing. The delegates were informed. Steps must be taken by state governments to relieve this situation, speakers declared.

Rent Ruler

Charged with the responsibility of setting up machinery to place ceilings on rents affecting more than 86,000,000 persons, Paul A. Orter, deputy administrator of the Office of Production Management, is directing the federal rent control program under the supervision of Price Administrator Leon Henderson. Landlords in affected areas have until June 23 to stabilize rents in line with OPA recommendations.

'BACKDOOR THRUST': Japs Use Burma Road

Japan's "backdoor" invasion of China via the Burma road continued into Yunnan province despite U. S. army air attacks which knocked out 74 enemy planes in a single week.

Seriousness of the newest threat to China's resistance was seen in the decision of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to take personal command of his armies. That Chiang could count on stout co-operation from his American allies was shown by the repeated attacks by big Yankee bombers from India on the Jap's main airbase at Mingaladon north of Rangoon, Burma. This field was the main Japanese base for the all-but-finished Burma campaign, which had been extended to China.

The effectiveness of the American air offensive was illustrated by reports that each bomber was able to drop 250-pound explosives on the field in spite of heavy anti-aircraft fire.

CHARGE ACCOUNTS: Time Buying Curbed

Every American who used a charge account or an installment purchasing plan to acquire the goods he uses in everyday living was affected by the Federal Reserve board's orders clamping the brakes on time-payment buying. The orders, tightening restrictions already in effect, were the latest move in President Roosevelt's attack on spiraling prices.

The Reserve board decreed: 1—A limit of 12 months in the period over which most consumer's goods could be purchased on installment plans.

2—Down payments of one-third cash on a majority of consumer's items. Exceptions were automobiles purchasable over a 15-month period and furniture and pianos for which a down payment of only 20 per cent is required for purchase of over a 12-month period.

3—Payment of charge accounts in full by the 10th day of the calendar month after purchase. Failure to abide by this order would prevent the purchaser from buying on the account until he settled up.

4—The following additions to the list of goods on which regulations already apply: automobile batteries, tires, tubes and accessories; bedding, draperies, household electrical appliances; used furniture; athletic goods; household equipment; non-military clothing including shoes, hats and other haberdashery.

SPECIALISTS SOUGHT: Also Allied Nationals

Two moves to increase the flexibility of the army were made when the war department announced the creation of the new army specialist corps and the selective service headquarters declared that nationals of all Allied nations will be able to join either this country's forces or those of their home nation.

Men with certain specialized skills will be recruited for the army specialist corps. They will replace those who are capable of going into active military service. In general, men subject to the draft will be admitted into the new corps, according to the announcement. Those accepted may become officers ranging from lieutenants to "director generals."

In the move to recruit nationals of our allies, Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, announced that reciprocal arrangements had already been worked out under which Canadians residing in this country might join either the Canadian or American forces. This agreement will be extended to other nations.

MISCELLANY:

HEALTH HINTS for LIVESTOCK

PREPARED BY AMERICAN FOUNDATION FOR ANIMAL HEALTH

HOW TO CUT DOWN YOUNG PIG LOSSES

Not all little pigs go to market. In fact a third of all pigs farrowed on American farms never live to marketable age. Most of this vast loss occurs within the first few weeks of life. Much of it is preventable.

Among the many causes of losses are scours, pneumonia, crushing under sows, chilling, low blood sugar, anemia, vitamin deficiencies, infectious sore mouth, Bang's disease, swine pox, hog cholera, starvation, erysipelas and miscellaneous infections.

Healthy, cholera-immune breeding stock is the first step toward a successful pig crop. Sows must have a ration carrying proper levels of proteins, calcium, phosphorus and iodine. Many still births and weak pigs, as well as a tendency toward scouring and pneumonia, are traced to sow rations that lacked enough vitamin A and D. Recent research also shows that one severe type of baby pig loss can be prevented by supplying sows with sugar-rich rations during the last half of their terms.

Here are some further suggestions to help reduce baby pig losses: Hog houses should be cleaned thoroughly by scrubbing with hot lye water. Just before farrowing, the sows' udders should be washed clean with soap and water. Many veterinarians advise that brood sows should be treated for internal parasites prior to pigging time. Sows and young pigs should be hauled to clean pastures and the pigs creeped after two weeks old for faster gain and growth.

Farrowing pens should be roomy and equipped with guard rails to prevent crushing and smothering. Anemia can be prevented by tossing a foot-wide square of clean pasture sod into each pen once a week. Baby pigs should be allowed to run about and exercise in the hog house runway each day. Bedding should be clean and changed frequently. The navel cord stump of each pig should be disinfected to guard against navel infection.

Infectious diseases of baby pigs must be detected at the earliest possible moment.

Washing sow with warm water and soap will help save pigs.

sible moment. Listlessness, thumping, excessive coughing, scours or discoloration of the skin should be called to the immediate attention of a trained veterinarian.

After weaning time, pigs should receive a balanced ration of an 18 per cent protein level, with a handy supply of simple minerals and salt. They should be immunized against cholera by a veterinarian within three weeks after weaning.

Savings pigs was formerly the concern of individual farmers. Now this conservation move is part of the nation's all important Food for Victory campaign, and it is a responsibility none of us should shirk.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 10.

The Golden Text was, "O Israel, return unto the Lord thy God; for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity" (Hosea 14: 1).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? Whereof come out from among them, and be ye separate, said the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you, and I will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty" (II Cor. 6: 14-17, 18).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God, without the image and likeness of Himself, would be a non-entity, or Mind unexpressed. He would be without a witness or proof of His own nature. Spiritual man is the image or idea of God, an idea which cannot be lost nor separated from its divine Principle" (p. 303).

VALUE OF RELIGION

In Character Building

"More important even than creating forms of beauty and of art is the task of creating character within ourselves. This is a task which is placed in man's own hands. No one can create another's personality. This is our individual responsibility and it is the most important task before us in life.

"As we create our higher self on the inner plane, so correspondingly will be the effects of all our efforts on the outer plane. Everything flows from this center. We must be in order to "Nothing can build character as religion can. It furnishes inspiration and motive power. It holds before every individual the perfect model. It inspires him with intense desire to attain to perfection. It gives him power and guidance to work constantly in the direction of his goals.

"Religion is a normal force building up every life daily to more complete perfection. It can inspire superhuman enterprise, courage and wisdom. Christ said, 'I am come that ye might have life and have it more abundantly.' A religion which inspires and motivates action is indeed the cause of more abundant, more creative living. Sow an act, reap a habit. Sow a habit, reap a character. Sow a character, reap a destiny."—Stanwood Cobb.

Baha'ullah says: "Every cause needeth a helper. In this Revelation the hosts which can render it victorious are the Hosts of Praiseworthy Deeds and Upright Character. Sugar Quotas...

swer to one of the many questions asked by housewives.

"All new babies may have their sugar as soon after the stork's arrival as is necessary," Mr. Pope said. "Parents simply need to make application for a book."

In the case of lost books the outlook was not so bright. Persons who lose their books must apply for another, Mr. Pope said. However, in no case may a local rationing board issue a duplicate book until two months have elapsed.

Persons who do not use the first stamp in their books before midnight of May 16 should remove it and destroy it. That is the end of the period for which it is valid to purchase one pound of sugar, and in no case should it be given to a dealer after the expiration of the designated period. Succeeding stamps, that are not used should be disposed of in the same way, he said.

Any type of cane sugar may be exchanged for any other type, but the amount must be the same in each case. Where one type costs more, a price adjustment is permitted, Mr. Pope said. Thus a family which has already used its stamps and wants brown or confectioner's or some other variety may obtain it by exchange.

Persons who, because of illness, may need more than the allotted quantity of sugar may obtain it by making application to their rationing board, Mr. Pope said.

Farmers and others who because of transportation difficulties find it inconvenient to buy in small quantities may obtain certificates from boards which will permit them to purchase a two-period supply at one time by giving up two stamps from each book, Mr. Pope said.

Do Freshmen Seek Revenge? No One Knows

Whether or not Antioch High school freshmen will seek revenge for their 15 to 2 drubbing administered to them Friday by the Antioch Grade school team remains to be seen.

The Grade school soft ball team has enjoyed a rather successful season with all home games on the schedule, because of the tire situation as it is, which prevented the usual inter-scholastic schedule. After licking all competition of their class in sight the youngsters gingerly approached the high school frosh—with surprising results. Score Grade school 15, High School freshmen 2. The freshmen have made no move to secure a return engagement, it is said.

John Fahey, professor in history and philosophy at St. Mary's of the Lake Seminary at Mundelein, and Dean Clark, professor of law at DePaul university.

Heading the committee on arrangements was Dr. W. A. Biron, and music was by a high school group under the direction of Hans von Holwede.

Private Miller Earns Diploma at Ft. Benning

Private Erwin F. Miller, of Woodcrest subdivision, Antioch, was one of those graduated last week from the Wheeled Vehicle department of the Armored Force School at Fort Benning, Georgia. Private Miller completed a 60-day course in the repair and maintenance of most of the 54 types of vehicles used by the quick-smashing armored force. Miller entered the service in November, 1941, and he is with Headquarters Company, 17th Armored Engineers Battalion, 2nd Armored Division, Ft. Benning, Ga.

Headed by Lt. Col. W. F. Millice, graduate of Purdue University, the Wheeled Vehicle Department gives soldier-students a thorough course in the theory of automotive mechanics and fundamental shop practice. Expert civilian and enlisted instructors outline the fundamentals, using actual motors and skeleton vehicles supplemented by usual aids. Practical repair and maintenance work is done on peeps, jeeps, trucks and scout cars from the various units of the post which are actually in need of repair and inspection, thus giving students an opportunity to do the same type of work they will find under field conditions.

The Wheeled Vehicle department is one of eight which make up the mammoth 314-building school, only one of its kind in the United States. The Armored Force School operates 14 hours a day, six days a week (two seven-hour shifts) and graduates 38,000 officers and enlisted men annually as qualified technicians and junior officers. It is commanded by Brig. Gen. S. G. Henry, and has been functioning since Nov. 4, 1940.

Charles Cermak, Jr., writes from Great Lakes Naval Training station that he knows how to sleep in a hammock, wash his own clothes, and scrub the deck. Chas. will finish his 21 days preliminary this Saturday and will have his first liberty since enlisting three weeks ago.

The soldier's chances for quick recovery is better than the civilian's chances in the opinion of Ray D. Morton, of Camp Berkeley, Texas, who has had opportunity of observing army surgical practice for several months while he has been attached to the medical corps there.

"In 500 major and 3,000 minor operations at Camp Berkeley during the past year only one death has resulted," Morton writes the News. The figures were quoted from an address of Lieut. Col. P. J. Sarma, chief of surgery at the station hospital in an address before the semi-annual meeting of the Texas Surgical society. Col. Sarma was called to service from his civil life post as associate professor of surgery at the University of Illinois. He told the society that the soldier's chances under surgery impress him as superior to civilians because of the conditions under which the army carries on. There is little loss of time between the development of the need for an operation and the performance. "Only in the army," Col. Sarma said, "can we operate within a few hours of the time acute appendicitis develops or a stomach ulcer ruptures."

Ray's brother, Stanley, is serving in the Canal Zone with H. Battery, 83rd C. A. A., Fort Amador, Balboa.

Zion School Girl Killed on Highway

Geraldine Phillyaw, 15, daughter of Richard Phillyaw, a Zion bricklayer of 3311 Gilboa avenue, was killed Sunday night on Sheridan road south of Kenosha when she was struck by a car driven by Leonard Craig, 30, of Kenosha.

Miss Phillyaw, who was in the eighth grade of Elmwood school and a member of this year's graduating class, was riding to Kenosha with Alvin Marston, also of Zion, when a tire went flat. When she was crossing the street to a nearby residence to summon a garageman by telephone she was struck by Craig's car. She died instantly.

Screens for Decorative Purposes

Screens have been used for decorative and art purposes by every civilized nation for hundreds of years. The beautiful hand-tooled leather screens from Italy, the delicate carved frames with brocade panels from France, the massive oak paneled screens of England, the lacquered metal from Asia and the rich lacquer screens from China are all pieces of art executed by artists and craftsmen from all over the world.

More Attractive Rooms
"Square rooms can be made more attractive by the simple expedient of using darker and lighter tones of the same color paint, thereby creating an optical illusion which alters the apparent proportions of the room. A room that is too long can be shortened to the mind's eye by using a lighter tint on the longer walls. This will have the apparent result of causing the end walls to appear longer."

Channel Lake Club Joins Canning & Gardening Assn.

The Channel Lake Community club will be a member of the Lake County Canning and Gardening association during the next year. This was decided at a meeting of the club held at the school Monday night. The donation of the local club has been sent in, and the school is assured of being supplied with canned and stored vegetables for the school lunches the coming school year.

Teacher Retires
A beautiful quilt, made by the mothers of the Channel Lake district and bearing the names of all families there, was presented to Mrs. Myrtle Norman Barnstable, teacher of the primary room for the past 11 years. Mrs. Barnstable will retire at the close of the present term.

The May day festival will be held at the school next Thursday and the annual picnic is scheduled for Friday, May 22, at Fox River park.

Club members promise a good time to all those who attend the Spring card party and dance to be held at the school house on May 26.

The Junior Defense club has been doing a noteworthy job, it was learned at the meeting. Among its accomplishments to date is the sale of $75 in defense stamps and three tons of paper has been collected, which will be sold this week.

For Sale Cheap—1 lemon in good condition; also a quantity of rhubarb. Owner has no use for same.

A fine thing this—with all the first aiders in Antioch Walter Scott has to apply his own bandages. In the News office yesterday with a bandage on his hand he informs us he could get no one to apply it for him and must needs do it himself!

Something we're going to miss when school is out—the sight of Martha Winch ankling briskly down the concrete with a book balanced on her head. This morning no doubt the book was "Gone with the Wind."

All day long yesterday we worried about the roof on the building next door—would they get it back on before it rained? Here's hoping—for it sure did come down.

A friend of ours who received his questionnaire a few days ago got a little chuckle out of one of the questions. In asking present occupation, etc., the last one is "No occupation, not looking for work? Wonder how many will respond to that one? Nice job, but poor pay, we fear."

We see where the women are joining the marksmanship club. Probably be pretty good at it, too. They say it was more than a coincidence when Joe Gill, husband of the champion rolling pin thrower at the county fair, was winner of the 100-yard dash.

Town of Antioch Will Sell Lots Bought in 1933

The town board of Antioch township has advertised for bids on a house and four lots in Klondike subdivision for sale.

The real estate, described as lots 41 to 44 in the subdivision, was acquired by purchase by the township in 1933 for right-of-way for the county road built that year, and extending to the site of the proposed bridge over the Fox river at Klondike. Original owners of the lots were Charles Mitchell and wife and Mary Mitchell, while a Mr. Lynn owned lots 41 and 42.

For the past several years the residence on the property has been used to house families of dependents.

Japanese Try to Wreck Morale of U.S. With Dope

New 'Secret Weapon' Seen In Flooding Country With Narcotics.

WASHINGTON. — Law enforcement officers throughout the country are mustering all their forces to combat Japan's newly disclosed "secret weapon"—the flooding of America with morale-wrecking, poisonous narcotics.

The existence of this typically Japanese plot against American morale has been known to higher-ups in the anti-narcotic service for some time, but a recent statement by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. establishes it for the first time as a deliberate instrument of the enemy's national policy.

For the past ten years, it can now be stated, the principal source of illegal narcotics reaching America has been Japan.

Three-fold Purpose.

This deadly traffic—which has been interrupted, but not halted, by war—is declared by Harry J. Anslinger, commissioner of narcotics, to have a three-fold purpose:

1. To gain additional revenue for war purposes.
2. To corrupt Occidental nations, which are regarded by the Japanese as peculiarly susceptible to the higher concentrates of narcotics, such as morphine, heroin and cocaine.
3. To demoralize and enslave the peoples of lands already invaded or marked for eventual invasion.

For more than a decade, the cargo of nearly every Japanese ship reaching these shores is believed to have contained hidden narcotics destined for the American people.

Even a ship bearing Prince Chichibu, brother of the Mikado, was not exempted as an agent of the sinister traffic. Customs officers searched it at Seattle, and found morphine worth hundreds of thousands of dollars (at U. S. illegal prices) concealed beneath an apparently innocent shipment of soy beans.

Similar smuggled cargoes of dope, virtually all of it originating in government-licensed Japanese factories, have been found by government men aboard vessels docking in New York, Boston, Baltimore, Los Angeles, San Francisco and other large ports on both coasts.

Cargoes Slip By.

But it is admitted that many other dope cargoes, equally large, have inevitably slipped by—to be sold at exaggerated prices to dope addicts.

Only the strong preventive campaign waged by this government in recent years, according to anti-narcotic officials, has saved thousands of Americans from falling prey to this vicious "secret weapon" of the enemy.

But the story is different on the Pacific, where the Japs have been able to operate without interference. In occupied China, hundreds of thousands of Chinese, who had been cured of the opium habit by the stern measures of the Nationalist government, have been seduced back into it by the Japanese.

The same fate, without question, awaits the people of Thailand and the Philippines, provided the Japs can gain even temporary control of those countries.

By pursuing these insidious policies everywhere, the Japanese high command believes, resistance can be weakened so as to smooth the path of invasion, and to make it possible for a relatively small Japanese force to hold a conquered nation in subjection.

Parachute Jumping Is Tough, Declares Expert

SHEPPARD FIELD, TEXAS. — Parachute jumping is risky, takes a lot of nerve, and is a tougher job than the ordinary infantry, according to Private Franklin L. Ragon, who before his present enlistment in the air corps was a member of the first parachute battalion organized in this country.

Now a member of the 408th school squadron at Sheppard Field, Texas, Private Ragon took time off from his recruit training to recount his experiences at Fort Benning, Ga., where he was trained as a parachutist in the 501st parachute battalion.

A volunteer for this work from the 20th infantry at Fort Warren, Wyo., Private Ragon went through the rigorous instruction in parachute packing and the proper method of jumping and landing. He made his first jump from 1,500 feet, the second from 1,000 feet and the third from 750.

Holidays Are Headache For One Woman in Dixie

TALLAHASSEE, FLA.—Mrs. Bess Merryweather of Yankeeetown is getting to the point where she hates to see another holiday come around.

She wrote to Gov. Spessard L. Holland that:

Her car was stolen on Thanksgiving day.

Her house was broken into on Christmas.

She was robbed of her jewelry and $700 on New Year's day.

Besides asking the governor to do something about solving the crimes, she added, "we need a trained detective and a lie detector, if possible."

TRUSTY AUTOMATIC—Still one of the Army's most effective weapons is the Browning automatic rifle. Like the old Springfield, it is the infantryman's standby. This rifle embodies features upon which no improvements have been made.

EQUIPPED FOR A RAID—Reconnaissance missions call for alert minds and sharp eyes. Hundreds of infantrymen are receiving special instruction in this type of work to attain self-reliance and confidence. They carry side-arms instead of rifles.

Don't Wait to Do Good Deeds

The good deeds we would do are brightened and made more prolific of beneficial results if we carry them out while the enthusiasm of our generous impulse is upon us. Have we not all experienced the warm desire to succor; postponed to a more convenient time (for us) then dreaded for days until we finally drag ourselves to an accomplishment that makes of kindness a pitiful treadmill and bestows no sweet graciousness upon the recipient, who innately feels the irksomeness of our beneficence?

Lots of Berries

Late statistics from the department of agriculture show that approximately 648,000 crates of straw-berries were sold. Of the berries sold, growers estimated that they received for fresh market sales an average price of $1.36 per 24-pint crate, and expected final season payments from processors of 4.4 cents per pound. Processors handled about 78 per cent of the state's marketable production this year.

Shop Course Stresses Value of Work With Hands

Over 100 Students Make Use of Fine Equipment at High School

Shop is one of the most popular courses at A. T. H. S. Perhaps this is not true with the teachers and students whose fate it is to be located directly above the shop and to be compelled to recite in direct competition to the circular, band, and jig saws; the joiner, the drill press; the grinder; the disc, drum, and portable sanders; and the four lathes with which the shop is equipped; however, something like a hundred students have a class in shop during the day this semester. During the first semester many of the students study mechanical drawing, reserving their shop work for the second semester.

The idea of all this shop is to teach boys how to work with their hands and to learn the use of machines.

"We are living in a machine age, and every boy should realize how valuable is the knowledge of the operation and proper use of machines," said Mr. M. M. Stillson, manual training teacher.

Some of the work turned out by advanced students compares very favorably with that of commercial furniture manufacturers, among the pieces now under process of production being writing desks; bedside, radio and end tables; colonial lamps; book cases; foot stools; smoking stands; and magazine racks.

Both services are open to the public.

Style Show Depicts Fashions Around the Clock; Show 56 Outfits

(By Rosalie Sibley)

The annual style show presented by the Home Economics club of the Antioch Township High School was held Wednesday, May 6. The theme of the show was "Fashion Around the Clock." The decorations carried out this theme.

A banquet for members of the club and their mothers was given before the show. Peggy De Baets, president of the club, welcomed the mothers and introduced the other officers and their mothers. Miss Isabel Larimer, home economics teacher, spoke a few words and introduced the teachers. Shirley Wells, vice president of the club, gave a summary of the club happenings.

Fifty-six garments, constructed by the girls in the home economics classes, were presented in the style show which followed the banquet. The outfits were divided into three groups for judging: cotton wear, sports wear, and afternoon wear.

Winners in the cotton wear group were Alice Kacer, first; Dotty Wilton, second; and Grace King, third. Winners in the sports wear group were Grace King, first; Jean Oren, second; and Gerda Pierce, third. Marilyn Sobey received an honorable mention. Winners in the afternoon wear group were Elizabeth Grenus, first; Louise Meinersmann, second; and June Kutil, third. Ruth Dalbke and Helen Lyerla received honorable mention. Miss Larimer presented first, second, and third place winners with ribbons.

The program will feature a moving picture called "Unfinished Rainbows." Parents of high school students are urged to attend.

Journalism Class Gets Information First Hand

by Marty Winch

The Journalism class on Saturday, May 9, journeyed to Chicago, where it proceeded to get itself an education in journalism in one short day. A tour of the Herald-American newspaper was first on the schedule, and Miss Margaret McDorman, who is journalism teacher, Rose Marie Zellhofer, Marty Winch, and Rosalie Sibley, who comprise the journalism class, got a first-hand view of the workings of a Chicago newspaper. After seeing the editorial offices, the engraving rooms, the teletypewriters, and the pressroom with its great presses grinding out papers at something like a thousand a minute, the class visited Poetry Magazine, where the business manager explained the workings of a magazine and told of the publication standards of Poetry Magazine. Finally the class attended the WGN public broadcast, "America Loves a Melody," after which the journalists decided to call it a day well spent.

What about A&P LOW PRICES

now that everybody is talking about CEILING PRICES?

• Now, and after May 18th (when ceiling prices become effective), all A&P Food Stores and A&P Super Markets will continue to give you real low prices on fine foods every day, just as they have been doing.

• The new "ceiling price" regulation will not alter in any way A&P's low price policy. This means that every day at A&P you will continue to get the best foods the markets afford at our lowest possible prices.

• And here is another important fact to remember. FOOD PRICES WILL NOT BE IDENTICAL IN ALL FOOD STORES on and after May 18th. Prices will continue to differ in food stores on the same articles—just as they have heretofore.

OUR CUSTOMERS SAVE MONEY

A&P, during the last eight years, has made big reductions in its operating costs. These savings have been passed along to our customers, so that today they have 9c more of every food dollar to spend than they did in 1933.

It is A&P's policy to continue to conduct its business as economically as possible, thus to give you the utmost for every food dollar you spend at A&P Stores.
